

Sal
the
Sock

Sal
the
Sock

Sal Sock the sock loved his life.

He lived in a drawer with his friends and his wife.

UNDERWEAR,
SOCKS,
TIGHTS GALORE;

they all lived together
in a roomy drawer.

Sal
the sock belonged to Rose.

He Loved to go

on her Little toes.

Rose's mom came up one day
and said,

"I'm here to take your Laundry away!"

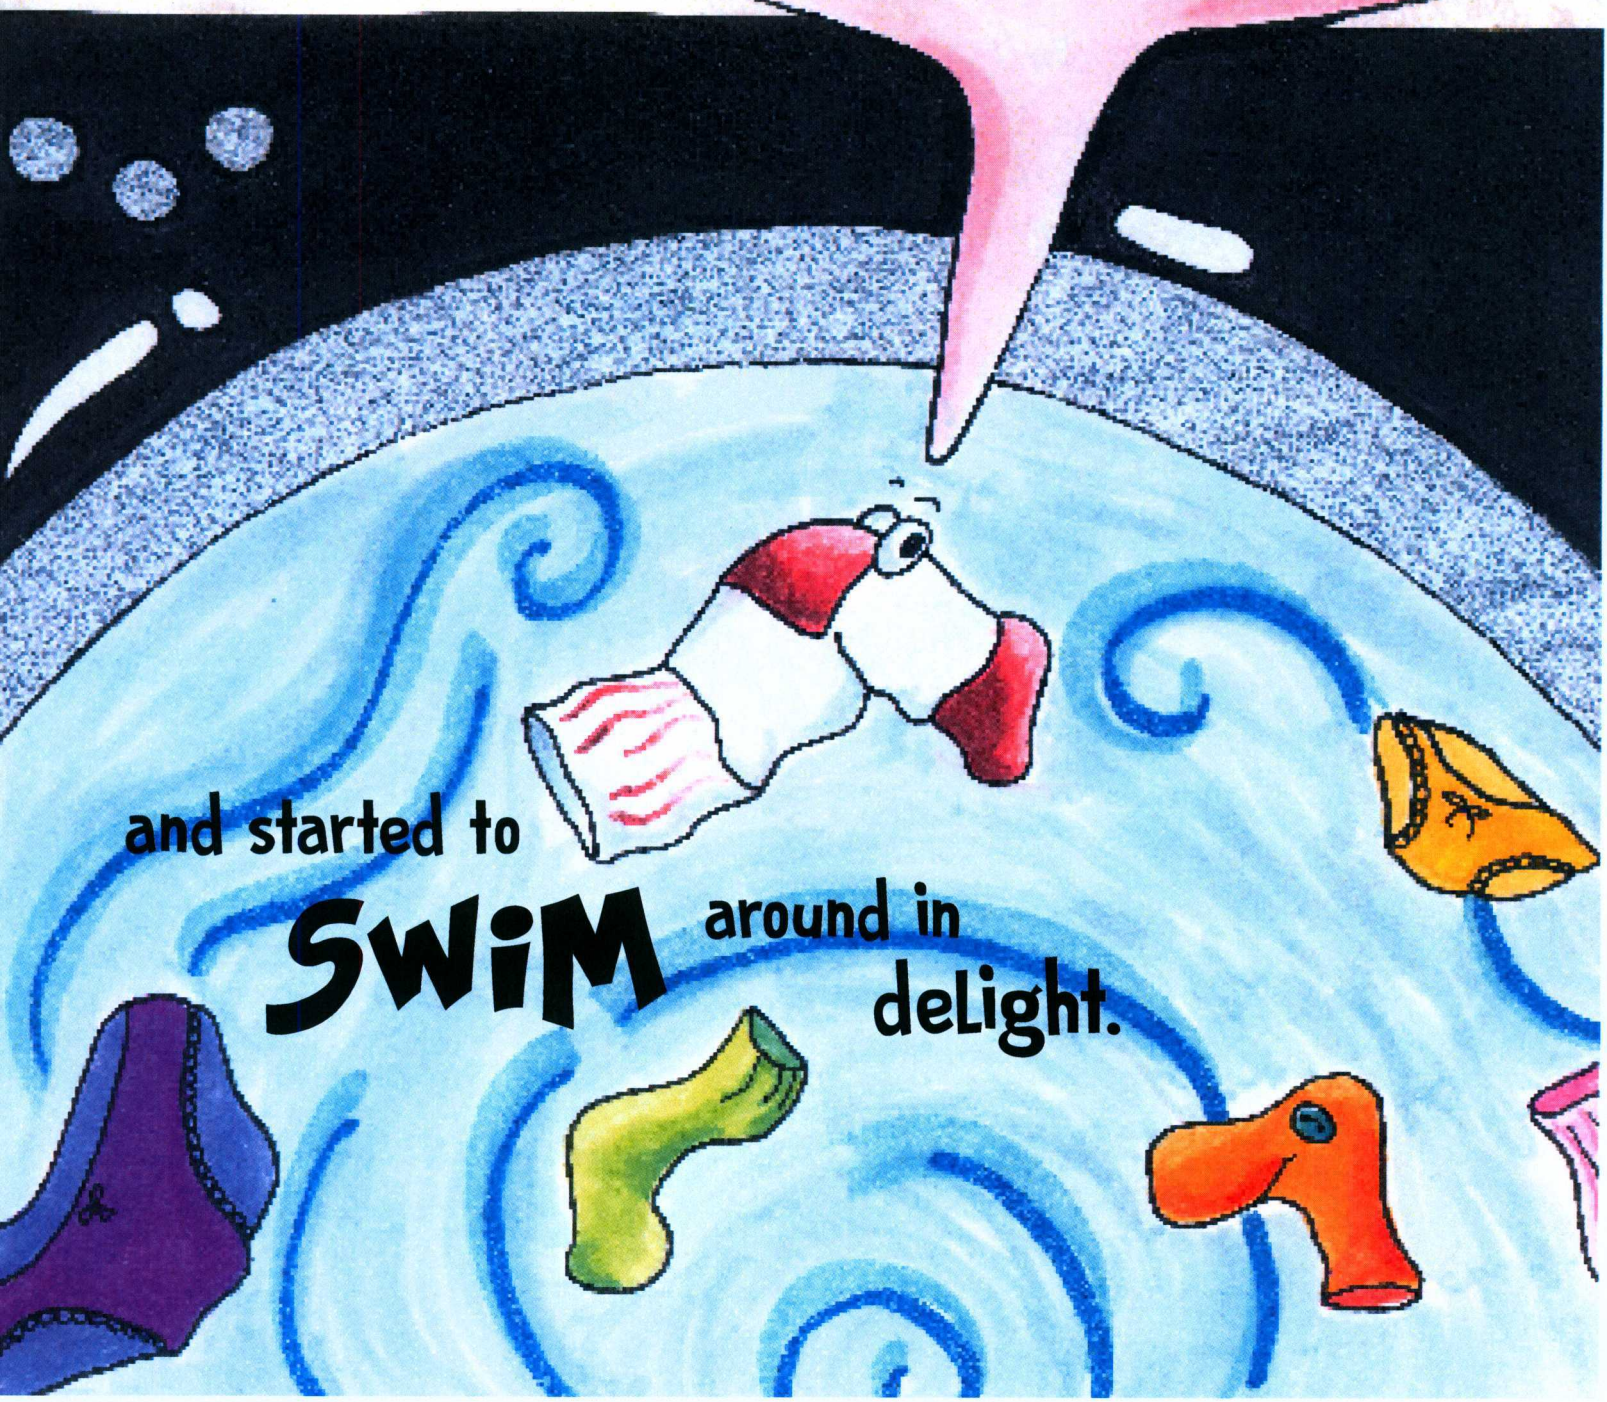

Into the hamper is where SaL and his friends went,
then, into the washer is where they were sent.

They
CHEERED,

"We're going to get
clean tonight!"

and started to

SWIM around in
delight.

When it was over and it was time for them to dry,
Rose's mom closed the door and said,

"GOODBYE!"

Toss

and

TURN

and TUMBLE

they went,

but Sal saw some of his friends
slip out of the vent.

He continued to tumble on but, Sal
didn't know where his friends had gone!

Late that night when Rose was fast asleep,

Sal opened the drawer and

DOWN

THE

STAIRS

he started to creep.

One step at a time he crept closer to the
laundry room,

all of a sudden he heard a

BOOM!

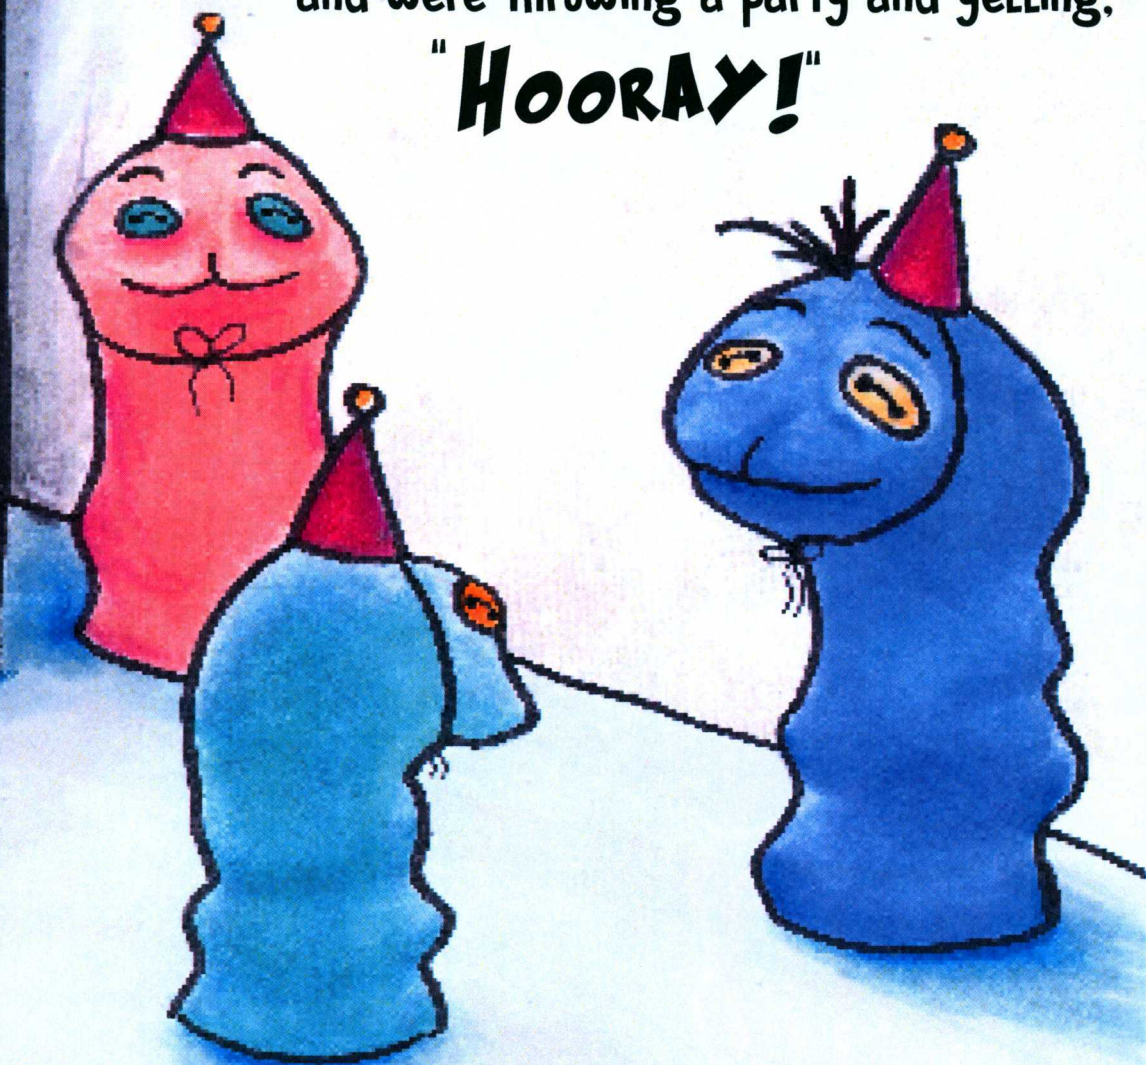

Quickly he ran towards the dryer,
on the way he tripped on a wire!

Behind the dryer he saw
a light. it was
his friends! They were alright!

They had slipped out of the vent in the dryer that day
and were throwing a party and yelling,

"HOORAY!"

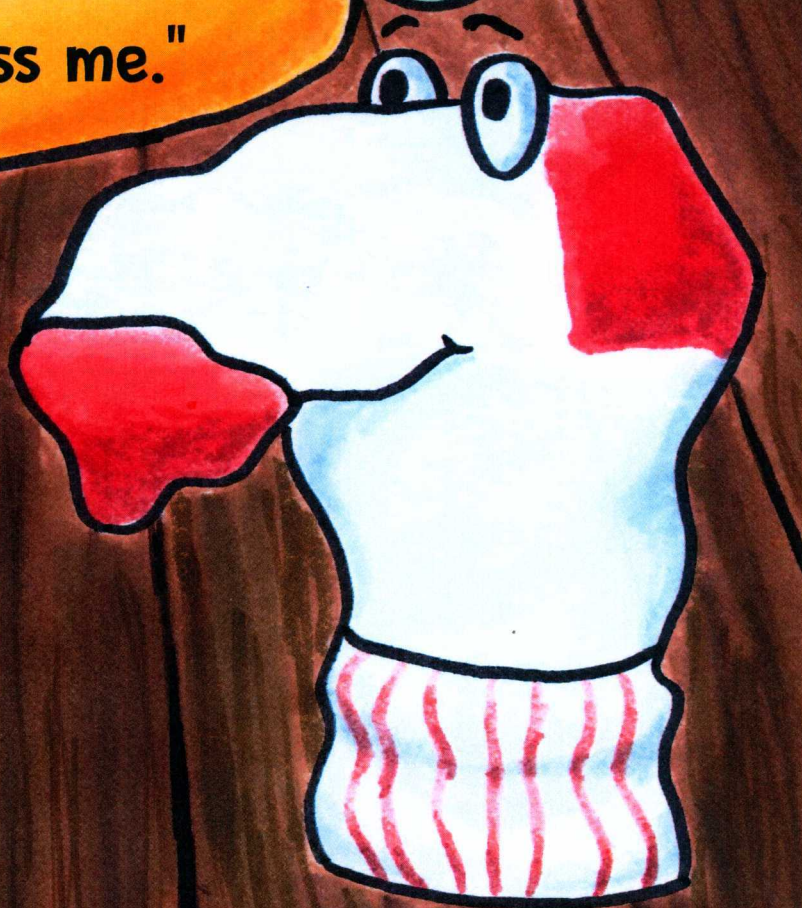

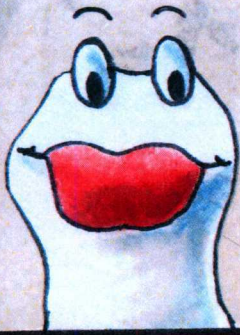

Happy to find them, Sal was relieved,
He turned around and started to Leave.

"Come join us Sal!
We're having FUN
you see."

"I dont want Rose
to miss me."

Sal walked up the stairs
and across the floor,

then, he

JUMPED

back into Rose's roomy drawer.